

Elizabeth Rowe

Dr. Elizabeth Rowe

Director of Research, EdGE at TERC

Email: elizabeth_rowe at terc.edu

Biographical Summary

Elizabeth Rowe, a senior researcher at TERC, studies and develops innovative uses of technology in and out of schools with a current focus on game-based learning. Dr. Rowe is currently the Director of Researcher for the Educational Gaming Environments group at TERC where she oversees the research design, data collection, and analysis for all EdGE projects. Elizabeth's background includes a Bachelor's in Math and a Ph.D. in Human Development and Family Studies.

Download CV

Areas of Interest

- Game-based learning analytics and data mining
- Multimodal analysis of learning
- Implicit STEM Learning
- Data literacy in formal and informal learning environments

Publications

Back to About Us